GREEN SCHOOLS CONFERENCE & EXPO

Atlanta, Georgia | March 21-22, 2017

STUDENT SUMMIT: Stand Up & Speak Out Finding Your Voice to Create Change

WESTIN PEACHTREE PLAZA

The Green Schools Conference & Expo 2017, in partnership with Captain Planet, is proud to host this year's Student Summit, which brings together youth from around the nation who are committed to making an impact in their schools and communities and in the lives of others. Just as Atlanta's own 5th District Congressman and Civil Rights Movement icon John Lewis has a proud legacy of making "good trouble," this year's summit is packed with two full days of activities focused on finding your voice, challenging the status quo and inspiring change so that you too can make good trouble. Captain Planet and Greening Forward, with support from the Center for Green Schools at the U.S. Green Building Council, have planned an impactful line up of dynamic changemakers and young professionals who will share tools and best practices they used to find their voice and help you discover yours - through art, media, research, politics, design, business and more. We look forward to seeing you at the Student Summit in Atlanta, GA! #GSCE17
