

SPARKING UP: SPEAKING OUT REVOLUTIONIZING ACTIVISM!

#challengethestatusquo

This day-long session is dedicated to honing the skills of passionate, young, change-makers.

This is not a workshop about environmental issues – it’s an active training session led by some of today’s most influential young people, where they will share how they found their voice and are making change in their communities and around the globe. Their goal is to equip you with the skills and training necessary to find YOUR voice and begin designing a campaign for the change YOU want to see in the world.

Join this team of incredible, young spark plugs in creating positive change. Design your campaign to challenge the status quo and spark your own revolution.
